TWENTY-FINE FOR 2025:

MISS NANCY STUNS FOR NEW YEAR!

Miss Bayode Bolanle Nancy (aka BB London, Bola Billions, Bololons, Sunny), known on the streets of X and Instagram as 'Miss (Mrs Money) Nancy', first of her name, thee Gen Z Engineer, Women and Child Rights Advocate, Sales & Marketing genius of the century and the funniest woman on the planet adds another year to her age.

The newly Silver-aged, occasionally referred to as 'Madam Baby' looks astonishingly radiant with her longer hair, fresher skin and insane never-declining face card that shines brighter than the Sun and makes Apollo look like a tunnel with no light.

Our birthday queen and August 1st headliner continues to absolutely serve, and eat, in all the ways that give, always somehow managing to look like she stepped out of a magazine cover. Scientists are still baffled by her ability to age backwards.

The unstoppable force of nature has been spotted causing havoc in town as it has been observed that mere mortals faint from sheer amazement on sighting her.

Witnesses report that her birthday glow is so intense, street lights have been turning themselves off out of embarrassment and NASA had been trying to land an interview with the celestial body, but she's too booked and busy being the topic of Ayra Starr's new single.

In a recent interview, the goddess Aphrodite describes her essence as "bastardly illegal".

Local authorities have issued a public advisory, warning citizens to wear sunglasses when approaching the birthday goddess, as her aura has been known to cause temporary blindness from pure excellence.

The Nigerian government is reportedly considering declaring August 1st to 4th a public holiday in her honour, though they're still figuring out how to afford the nationwide celebration her existence deserves.

Breaking news from the financial district says the stock market report unprecedented gains just from rumours that Nancy walked past the building. Banking apps across the country have started featuring her photo as their loading screen because money literally gravitates toward her presence.

As Madam Baby blows out her candles, the universe collectively holds its breath because we all know she's about to make a wish that will somehow make her even more iconic than she already is - which shouldn't be scientifically possible, but who cares, the Queencess has never been one to follow the rules of physics anyway!

MISS (MRS MONEY) NANCY

Well Wishes

We have watched you achieve a lot this last year:

- Becoming an Engineer,
- Finishing your Youth service,
- Becoming a regular in the advocacy space and finding your voice in public.

And these are just the highlights — among many other little victories, quiet wins, and moments of personal triumph that are no less significant.

Through the hurdles, challenges, doubts, and uncertainties, you're still here — standing tall, moving forward, getting better, growing stronger with each step.

And we just want to say, with full hearts, that we are extremely proud of you — proud of how far you've come, of your growth, your determination, your growth, and your progress.

We pray that this new year marks not just a continuation, but a progression of all the things that work in your favour. That, in this year of Jubilee, you shall jubilate, loudly, joyfully, and without restraint.

We pray for a long and fulfilling life — one rich in good health, overflowing with joy, grounded in purpose, and blessed with resources, opportunities, and the constant guidance of God.

More money in your hands, more laughter in your days, and more grace in your steps.

A very Happy birthday to you, Perm. Sec.!

— T A, for Naan MxCo.
